F. GILMAN TAYLOR

RETURNS FROM MEXICO WITH RENEWED PITY FOR HAPLESS CONDITIONS THERE

F. Gilman Taylor of 346 West Lexington Drive arrived from Mexico about a week ago. He is not telling how he got across the border, which by all accounts is some stunt in these days of embargo.

He says that conditions down there are better than they have been and there is more of a semblance of law and order. American men who have been doing business in Mexico find their trade cut off because they can get no goods through.

For fifty years, Mr. Taylor says, German trade has dominated Mexico and the German sentiment as a result is very strong. German propagandists are doing all they can to prejudice the Mexicans against the United States and they even go the length of publishing newspapers containing bogus dispatches credited to "wireless service" though there is no wireless service to which they could have access. The Mexicans readily believe these tales the Germans spread that the United States has no army to speak of either here or abroad.

He declares the Mexican is so constituted by nature and education that the only thing he respects is power. If you temporize with him you lose his respect for he misconstrues your motives. The patience which the United States has exercised to them appears to be cowardice. He hopes when the European wars ends that the Germans in Mexico will have to capitulate, and that some action may be taken to open the country and make it safe for Americans. He pronounces it one of the most promising countries on the face of the globe and says it is a shame for it to be all these years undeveloped. For eight months in the year the climate, he thinks, is superior to our boasted California variety. The midsummer months, he admits, are hot and disagreeable.

According to his description, the common people live very miserably in poor huts with only two or three kinds of food for the course of their entire lives.

NEWS OF THE WEAVERS

Mrs. A. L. Weaver are occupying an apartment on Shattuck Avenue in Berkeley but expect to move soon to a more desirable one. They say the city was crowded and they found it hard to secure quarters. Mr. Weaver is fascinated by his work in the T. N. T. plant of the Hercules Powder Company and says it is a wonderful plant and a wonderful opportunity. He leaves his home at 6:30 a. m. and does not get back to it until 6 p. m.

Thus far he has not seen his brother Chester who has been quarantined on Goat Island for the past 30 days on account of the "flu" epidemic. Chester wrote in a letter received by his mother yesterday: "We have to work awfully hard. In six weeks or two months I expect to be sent to Harvard College and if I am, I may not be able to come home for Christmas."

EXEMPTION BOARD NOTES

Permission has been secured to extend to Nov. 14th the period during which inductions may be made into the Motor Transportation Repair Corps No. 304 at Camp Sam Houston. This service is open to qualified mechanics. No men under 18 or above 46 without special qualifications will be admitted.

The local Exemption Board is now required to make a daily report of the number of men entrained whether any are sent or not.

RED CROSS NOTES

Mrs. Helen Sadler, chairman of the Hospital Garment Department is still looking for the return of garments carried home by workers. She is asking workers to bring or send them even if uncompleted that they may be finished in the workroom and be included in the shipment soon to be made to San Francisco.

The Surgical Dressing Department has a fresh order for 350 pads and 300 scutetus per month until further orders, so there is plenty of work ahead of workers in this section, who are asked to report for duty.

Twenty-two knitters called for yarn at the Knitting Department Thursday, all of whom took sock yarn. Mrs. Helen Campbell, the chairman was at her post and Miss Rowe was assisting in sewing on the chapter labels. Ever since school closed Miss Annie McIntyre has been helping with the repair work.

A SPRIG OF ROSEMARY

LOVING TRIBUTE TO THE MEMORY OF MRS. MAY PIRTLE CHASE

When the Angel of the Dawn, hurrying upon her way last Saturday to light the fires of day upon the hearthstone of the world, reached the home in Glendale, of May Pirtle Chase, she paused to signal "Come with me," and the two fared forth together to meet the morning.

Of those who have recently answered the call of the summoning messenger, none have stood higher in the respect and love of the community than Mrs. Chase. At a time when people are more than ever brought face to face with death and disruption, when they are accustomed to thinking of tragedy as having a world-wide sweep and grasp, this passing from our midst has made a deep impression upon all. The sorrow and regret expressed have been universal. Wherever small groups of people of either sex have met in the market places, it has been spoken; and silver wires have hummed with the sad message in homes whose inmates have been restrained from mingling with their fellow-creatures. The grief of the community has been a numb and helpless grief. Could a composite statue of it have been cast, it would have had an aspect like that depicted by the Greeks of old. The ancients always represented grief in their statues as dignified by heroic composure. Only a few, such as the Laocoon and Niobe exhibit melancholy, and these two convey the idea of the vengeance of heaven and not of human passion.

In analyzing the qualities that engendered so universal a sorrow among the people, the keynote of the character of Mrs. Chase was, undoubtedly, unselfishness. To plan for others without regard to self was her principal characteristic. Added to these was an innate sociability, a love for her fellow-beings, a sense of hospitality, conservatism, loyalty and friendship.

It is not given to all to achieve friendship. There are many who are able to attain admiration, liking or interest, permanent or transient, but the man or woman who is endowed with the capacity to form a sustained, abiding friendship—a friendship, that is ever watchful, zealous and on guard at a challenge to that friend's honor or name—is rare.

Such a friend was May Pirtle Chase to her friends.

It is not given to every one to be a good comrade or companion to the members of a household. The woman who can respond at a moment's call, leaving her warm sleeping nest on dark, cold nights, to relieve the tedium of a lonely professional ride, is giving something beside material comforts. She has glimpsed the true meaning of companionship.

In quiet, helpful, unobtrusive ways, the wheels of machinery were kept oiled and running smoothly by this scion of cheerfulness with the unclouded brow.

And she was loyal! The word loyalty is frequently spoken, especially of late, but do those upon whose lips it most often lies always know the meaning of it? It is used most with reference to one's country and to patriotism but it applies as well to the little things; and the one that is most observant of the great duty of patriotism is the one who is loyal to the small duties that are every day at hand, to the ties of blood, of friendship, of expressed or implied obligation. "Thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many." Life, after all, is an adjustment of values, and the one who estimates the primal qualities of truth, honor and fidelity at their correct appreciation, has obtained the right perspective.

Of the many kindly acts among the unfortunate or those in trouble, few knew who were not thrown in close contact with Mrs. Chase, but the memory of them glows as brightly as the afterglow of the sun behind the deepening purple at evening, of the Verdugo Hills.

Long may it linger, dear friend, and fade not until we are all gathered to the soft bosom of earth upon which you now repose.

For the last time we extend you Salutation and farewell.
C. H. R.

NEW AUSTRIAN REPUBLIC

REVOLUTIONARY PARTY IN FULL CONTROL IN VIENNA ESTABLISHES PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

COPENHAGEN, November 1.—A Copenhagen dispatch filed at midnight said the National Council, following a conference with thousands of soldiers and officers of the army, had decided to establish a provisional Workman's and Soldiers' Council to govern Austria, and had drawn up plans for an anti-monarchical state.

Victor Adler was chosen foreign minister, Herr Leutner, war minister, and Herr Renner, minister of social affairs. All are socialists.

Vienna is reported to be without food.

A Vienna dispatch reported the assassination of Count Tisza, leader of the Hungarian government party, a strong pro-German and former premier. One report said he was shot by a soldier, another says a woman relative was his assassin.

Count Karolyi, head of the National Council, wired the Berlin Tageblatt that the Buda Pesth garrison and police had acknowledged the new government, and that the populace is jubilant.

Herr Renner, socialist leader in Vienna, announced that the new national government had assumed full power. The crowd outside the building where the conference was held cheered the announcement wildly and waved red banners.

It is reported that the Austrian marines at Pola have revolted, seized the warships at the naval base and placed them at the disposal of the Hungarians and Jugo-Slavs.

Reports here are that the revolutionary party is in complete control in Vienna, and is occupying all public buildings.

THE HAPSBURG DYNASTY BELIEVED ENDED—INTERNAL CHAOS REIGNS IN AUSTRIA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, November 1.—Bolshevism appears to be developing in Austria. Race hatred and revolutionary violence are running wild. The emperor has departed from Vienna, and orders given by him before his departure show that he has practically abandoned his throne.

The demoralized and shattered armies are unable to fight, and are beyond the control of their commanders who are anxious to surrender.

The Versailles conference is understood to believe that the Hapsburg dynasty is at an end, and that the Kaiser's abdication is imminent.

ZURICH, November 1.—Advices received here today say that Emperor Karl has left Vienna for Goddila, and before leaving ordered the authorities to yield without resistance to the new regime.

He also notified Archduke Joseph to take similar action in Hungary. Joseph left Buda Pesth immediately following the declaration of a republic.

AUSTRIANS EVACUATE BASE IN ITALY

DEPART HASTILY FROM UDINE—ENEMY BEING ROUTED ON ENTIRE ITALIAN FRONT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, November 1.—Austrian forces have evacuated Udine, abandoning vast quantities of war material and supplies in their hasty flight, dispatches to the Italian embassy here reported today. Udine has been used since last November as headquarters of the enemy government in occupied Italian territory. It is 45 miles from the Piave and only twelve miles from the Austro-Italian border.

ROME, November 1.—The war office announced today that the Italians are completely overrunning the Venetian plains. They have reached Fadalt, 20 miles beyond the Piave, and are rapidly approaching Belluno and Aviano, 25 miles from the river. The British reached Livorno on a four-mile front from Sacile to Brugnera, after occupying Sacile.

In the Grappa region the entire Austrian force has collapsed, according to the war office report. Prisoners were taken in such numbers as to make counting them impossible.

The Austrians are retreating precipitately beyond the Tagliamento river pursued by the Allies.

The left wing of the Italian third army succeeded in cutting off 100,000 Austrians and the Italian fourth army is now rapidly closing in upon them.

"FLU" TOLL IN L. A. LARGE

849 DEATHS DURING OCTOBER TRACEABLE TO EPIDEMIC IS RECORD MADE PUBLIC TODAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, November 1.—Eight hundred and forty-nine deaths occurred in Los Angeles during October traceable to Spanish influenza, according to figures made public today. There were 15,984 cases. Today's report is the most encouraging up to date, the number of new cases showing a 50 per cent decrease.

TRUSTEES' MEETING

CHIEF HERALD AND OFFICER GARWOOD RESIGN—HOLLENBECK DISCHARGED

The board of trustees assembled in regular meeting at 8:15 p. m., October 31, 1918. Present at roll call, Henry, Jackson, Muhleman, Woodberry; absent, Shaw.

A communication was read from the city assessor recommending that Rev. J. H. Henry be allowed the veterans' exemption of one thousand dollars on the valuation of his property, although affidavit required by law is not on file. On motion, this was referred to the city attorney.

A communication was received from the city engineer, accompanied by a map of tract No. 3302, situated north of the limits of the city of Glendale, and recommending that the same be approved by the trustees as per request of the board of supervisors. On motion, the request was granted, and Trustee Muhleman presented a resolution No. 1048, "A Resolution Approving Map of Tract No. 3302, and Accepting on Behalf of the Public the Avenues, Streets, Alleys, and Public Places Shown Thereon," which was adopted.

Chief of Police and City Marshal, George H. Herald, tendered his resignation of those offices in a written communication, and upon motion of Trustee Henry, same was accepted, to take effect on December 1, 1918.

The chairman stated that on October 24, 1918, the resignation of Officer Garwood had been received and on motion of Trustee Jackson same was accepted, and ordered to become effective on December 1, 1918.

The reports of health officer and city recorder for the month of October were filed.

The city manager reported having, at the request of the health officers, established at the branch city hall building in the Tropic district, an emergency hospital, and employed a trained nurse to take charge; and further that certain necessary equipment had been purchased. He estimated that the total cost of this institution would be $80 per week, and that if the limited accommodations will permit, patients will be received at a charge of probably $20 per week each. On motion of Trustee Henry, the report was accepted and the action of the city manager was approved.

The city manager reported that the priorities committee had sent a blank form from Washington to be filled out before taking action permitting the delivery of the fire engine contracted for by the city of Glendale with the American-LaFrance Co. He called attention to the desirability of having the streets sprinkled in front of residences and on motion of Trustee Muhleman, it was ordered that householders be requested to do this sprinkling, by a publication to be made in the newspaper.

Police Officer H. W. Hollenbeck appeared before the board and asked to be informed as to why his resignation had been requested. The chairman stated in reply that this action had been taken not because of any complaint made against the officer, but merely because it seemed to be one of the changes required for the good of the service. The officer stated that he did not intend to offer his resignation. On motion of Trustee Henry, seconded by Trustee Jackson, it was ordered that the services of Officer Hollenbeck be dispensed with on December 1, 1918.

Trustee Henry made the motion, seconded by Trustee Jackson, that John Lampert be appointed to the office of city marshal to take effect December 1, 1918.

LITTLE MARY WIDNEY ILL

Word comes from Santa Ana that little Mary Widney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Widney, who formerly resided in this city on North Jackson street, is very low with cerebral spinal meningitis. A friend who furnishes the information, makes the following request:

"All praying friends are earnestly requested to ask the Heavenly Father if it can possibly be His will, to restore Lila Mary to health and let her loved ones be gladdened by her sunny presence in the home."

"I know whom have believed and am persuaded that He is able to keep that which I have committed unto Him against that day. Not our will but Thine, Oh Lord, be done."

LIBERTY LOAN FINALS

Final figures given out by Chairman Vesper on Glendale subscriptions to the Fourth Liberty Loan total $365,650.00. That is all there is to it; Mr. Vesper says in the way of a report, until the next loan comes around.

RETURNS FROM EAST

MR. CLENDENIN SAYS BUSINESS IS GOOD IN ALL LARGE EASTERN CITIES

W. J. Clendenin has just returned after a five weeks' visit to his native city of Baltimore. He says the "Flu" was the talk of everyone wherever he went, but it was only in San Francisco that the people were compelled to wear the mask. He visited New York, Philadelphia, Atlantic City, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh and Chicago, and in all of these cities the churches, schools, theaters and other places of amusement were closed.

Mr. Clendenin reports that business was very brisk in all places visited. He says in his own line of work in Baltimore they have more business for the government than they can handle. They hope to make some good money this year with which to buy more Liberty Bonds.

QUIET HALLOWE'EN

A beautiful though very warm Thursday ended in a tropic night which enticed young and old to the streets. It was small wonder therefore that there was a good deal of frolicking among small boys and girls who enjoyed themselves the more because of possible police raids. Some were in yama yamas, some masked, some with jack-o-lanterns, and some in plain, inconspicuous garb favorable to sly approaches to front doors and windows on which they could inscribe such legends as, "Buy a Bond" and "Window Washers Wanted." On one grocer's window was written, "We specialize in rotten goods."

Scurrying figures came and went like shadows and the residence thoroughfares were lively with the shouts and laughter of children, most of whom were in small groups supervised by their parents. Of a sudden, however, all was still and the supposition was that the "Cop" patrol had appeared, and parents had called their children home and tucked them into bed.

It was probably the quietest Halloween that Glendale has witnessed since it became a city. Among the disappointed hostesses was Miss Margaret Lushy, who had expected to entertain a small group of friends at her home on North Jackson street and who had made quite elaborate preparations for the party which had to be called off.

HIGH SCHOOL WILL NOT OPEN MONDAY

Principal George U. Moyle, of Glendale Union High School, reports that he was informed this (Friday) morning by Health Officer Chase that the high school would not be allowed to open next Monday as expected, and prospects for opening it the following Wednesday were very doubtful. It is probable, in Professor Moyle's opinion, that the school will not open before Monday, the 11th of November.

Professor Moyle also states that County Health Officer Pomeroy does not have jurisdiction of schools in incorporated cities like Glendale, where they are under the authority of the local health officer.

DEATH OF JOE COLLINO

Joe Collino, brother of B. Collino, of 335 Cypress avenue, this city, 31 years of age, who was born in Italy but who had been in this country five years, passed away at the Emergency Hospital in fire station No. 2, Thursday afternoon, October 31, 1918. Influenza complicated with heart trouble was given as the cause of death. He was an agriculturist employed in a local vineyard and was a favorite with his Italian compatriots. Funeral services will be held Saturday at the Holy Family Catholic Church at 2 p. m. and interment will be made in Grand View cemetery.

RELIEF WORK OF W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Ruby Smart, president of the city W. C. T. U. reports that during the past month the organization has been busily engaged in extra war relief work and that this (Friday) morning it has shipped a splendid consignment of clothing and quilts to state headquarters in Los Angeles for overseas relief. Two very large rolls contained 25 new quilts of various sizes, 4 large bed blankets, and many garments—some new, some partly worn, skirts, dresses, etc., all useful and in good condition. At conservative prices these were valued at a little over $125.

Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Daniels and little son, of Lomita avenue, are rejoicing over the arrival of a little girl, born Saturday night, October 26, 1918, at Thornycroft. She has been named Jean. Mother and child are doing well.

Candy Does Not Take Sugar From The Home

THE TRUTH ABOUT CANDY

On the contrary, it goes right back to you in the form of healthful, nutritious food.

Some people have the mistaken idea that if candy making ceased there would be no sugar shortage.

Just to see what would be the turn of affairs under such conditions, pretend that tomorrow you could get no more candy.

Tomorrow—200,000 people would be seeking new employment—most of them women. Think of it, a city the size of Toledo out of work!

Think of the Liberty Bond accounts that would go by default or payments temporarily stop!

America's thirty-eighth largest industry would be no more. Allied manufacturers would be seriously affected.

Over $110,000,000 invested in the candy industry would suffer a relapse.

And, in view of all this, would you get an increased allotment of sugar?

Why, if the sugar was entirely taken away from the candy industry and divided pro rata among the American people, each person would get less than one-third pound a month in addition to what they now receive. Would this compensate for the injury done the industry—for the untold happiness candy brings to children—the satisfaction it gives the adult—the added strength it imparts to the fighting man?

Frankly now, in your opinion is the candy industry essential?

It is estimated that Flowers, candidate for Congress, will get 70 per cent of the vote cast at next Tuesday's election. It will indeed be very appropriate for a Southern California Congressional district to send "Flowers" to Congress.

A hunting party made up of Glendale experts, motored to Owens Lake last Friday and returned Tuesday. They report fair luck and appeared to be well satisfied with the trip. Included in the party were Hugh Cornwell, John Fansett, Roy Hinchcliff, Neil Borthick, and Mr. Bramble. They brought home several ducks.

The McMullen Dairy is short a perfectly good horse, which was instantly killed by an auto truck about 9:30 Thursday night while making its rounds with the milk cart on San Fernando road. The driver made no stop to investigate the damage, but sped on and escaped before it was possible to learn his identity or the number of his machine.

NO SCHOOL NEXT WEEK

Mrs. H. V. Brown, secretary of the Intermediate School, states that, contrary to expectations, the grammar schools of Glendale will not open next Wednesday, as announced last week. The postponement of the opening is due to orders from the health department, which considers that conditions do not warrant a lifting of the embargo at that time.

ANSWERS THE GREAT ROLL CALL

The many friends of Willard G. Barnum will be grieved to learn of his death on Oct. 18th, at the General Hospital at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia. His death was due to an attack of influenza, followed by pneumonia. He was buried with military honors and interment was in the National Cemetery at Chattanooga. He leaves to mourn his death, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Barnum, of La Canada, Calif., a brother, Mr. Starr Barnum, in the Spruce Squadron of the Aviation Department of the United States service at Bay City, Washington, a sister, Mrs. Mabel R. Davis, Waltham, Mass., and a stepbrother, Mr. John Westgate, Somerville, Mass.

Willard was born at La Canada, Calif., 22 years ago last August, and was educated at Windsor, Conn. For three years he was in the engineering department of the Pacific Telephone Co., and at the time of his voluntary enlistment in the Engineer Corps of the United States Army last July, was in the oil fields at Fillmore, working for the Ventura Oil Co., in a trusted capacity. He was of a sunny, genial, and lovable disposition, always looking on the bright side of life. He was never known to speak ill of any one. He was loved by all who knew him and made friends where ever he went. He answered his country's call without waiting for the selective draft service and was anxious to go to France and "go over the top." He loved his uniform and did not want to give it up through illness. He answered the roll call of his country and is now gone to answer the Great Roll Call beyond.

DR. ROY V. HOGUE, DENTIST, in the First National Bank Building, desires to announce change of telephone service, new number to be Glendale 888 (eight double eight). 39t25
